Old friends

Old friends are a firm's best advertisement and Pullars are rich in old friends. Hundreds of families all over the country have formed a tradition of sending all their clothes, their fabrics, curtains and soft furnishings to Pullars every year. Such loyalty is the highest testimony we ask. It says all that need be said about the Pullar Quality and the Pullar Service.

Glenfarg Public Hall.

LENFARG, the pretty little village on the Ochils, has long been known as an attractive place of residence and summer resort. Its pure exhilarating air, its variety of roads (there are six leading out of it), the grand views from the surrounding hills, its high elevation above sea-level (averaging about 500 feet), and other advantages combine to make it a charming place. Within recent years the residents have shown considerable energy and enterprise in its improvement and development. A demand has now arisen, especially among the young men and women, for the reconstruction of the ante-rooms of the Public Hall. This demand has been so strong and insistent of late that the committee has felt it necessary to do something to meet it, and hence this Bazaar.

The PUBLIC HALL, which is a well-built structure capable of holding 250 people, was originally the public school. In 1906, however, the School Board erected a modern school on a more extensive site (at a cost of £2,600), and advertised the old building for sale. Offers of purchase were received from certain parties who intended to turn the building into dwelling-house. As this would have left the village without a Hall for public meetings (which had always been held the old school), the Board, of which the writer happened to be chairman, was unwilling to sell for such a purpose. Meantime, a number of public-spirited citizens formed themselves into a committee for the purchase of the building as a Public Hall. This committee consisted of Mr. Charles Mackarsie, convener, with Rev. J. W. Jack, Messers. Peter Anderson, James E. Bett, William Burnie, Alexander Deas, Sen., William Deas, D. R. Douglas, Duncan Macgregor, J.P., Robert Robertson, James Whyte, and John Wilson. In November, 1900, the building was handed over to this committee for the sum of £101. As, however, it had neither platform nor suitable seating nor ante-rooms of any kind, a further sum of £120 was needed for these additions. The total sum (£220) was borrowed at 4½ per cent. from Mr. William Deas, on the signed guarantee of all the other members of committee individually and jointly, and on the security of the property. Since the death of Mr. Deas in 1918, the loan has been continued by a friend of Glenfarg, through whose kindness and generosity no interest has so far been payable.

At the first meeting of the committee after the acquisition of the building it was agreed to have a Bazaar "sometime" to clear off the debt. Owing, however, to other public efforts being required at the time (for the golf course, bowling green, etc.), the project was allowed to lapse. It was revived in the summer of 1914, when an active Bazaar committee was appointed. In July of that year, a large social meeting of the public was held in the Hall in connection with the preliminary arrangements. Unfortunately, the catastrophe of the war next month, and its continuance for so many years, prevented this new effort from taking shape. As a result, the debt still remains, for recent years have not afforded any opportunity for its removal. This has been due to the number of other public needs, such as Nurses' House, Tennis Courts, etc.

Though an endeavour to clear it off might have been attempted this year, strong representations were made to the committee that the reconstruction of the ante-rooms, with modern sanitation, was a matter demanding attention first, and without delay. The want of a gentlemen's room, the inadequacy of the present ladies' room, and the unsuitability of the kitchen have caused such serious discomfort and inconvenience at large public dances and social meetings that the necessity of reconstruction at the earliest possible time has been forced on the committee. It is evident that what was considered satisfactory long ago falls short of what is expected in these modern times. As the reconstruction will be an undoubted benefit to the general public, the committee would ask all who have the public interests at heart to support the undertaking to the utmost of their power, and to crown it with success.

The committee, though not publicly appointed, is nevertheless a public one, acting entirely in the public interest, and supplying an undoubted public want. It is a public committee in the same sense as the others in the village, and deserves the hearty support of all citizens. It is forbidden by its constitution to receive any profits or take any of the proceeds for itself; and it holds the title-deeds of the building in its own possession, under trustees of its own, for the sole benefit of the public. The writer, who is the only one left of the original committee, can testify that the members have striven constantly to satisfy public need. Mr. Charles Mackarsie, the first chairman, was succeeded in 1912 by Mr. Alexander Deas, Sen. On the death of the latter in 1914, his brother, Mr. William Deas, was elected to the position. In 1918, when the last named passed away, the writer was appointed on the motion of Mr. James Whyte, seconded by Mr. J. Morison. Successive secretaries (and treasurers) have been Messrs. William Burnie, J. Coutts Morrison, M.A., A. A. Hutton, and H. H. Bonar, O.B.E. Since Mr. Bonar's departure from the district, the chairman has been acting as hon. secretary and treasurer pro tem. The auditors are Messrs. Richard Hume and D. G. Landsborough.

Current expenses in the case of a public hall are large, including rates and taxes (both owners' and occupiers'), various insurances (including not only fire, but employers' liability, public risk, etc.), heating, lighting, repairs (often heavy), caretaker's salary, piano-tuning, theatre license, etc. The only income is from the letting of the hall for meetings or gatherings, and this is no more than sufficient to meet the large expenditure. Taking the average income and expenditure of the last three years, there is actually a deficit of over £5 on the working of the Hall, as is evident from the following table:-

	Income.	Expenditure.
1926,	£25 17 6	£35 11 8
1927,	52 15 0	62 16 5
1928,	46 0 5	36 11 11
	£124 17 6	£130 3 0

The larger expenditure in 1927 was owing to the purchase of piano, and the larger income the same year was due to a donation of £6 10s. kindly given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lumsden from the proceeds of a whist drive.

The charges for the letting of the Hall are necessarily higher than they would be if meetings were more numerous, They were definitely fixed as follows on 6th March 1929, after much careful deliberation by the committee:-

Local meetings, where there is no charge for admission. such as Ratepayers' meetings, Lectures, etc.,	15/-
Meetings other than local (e.g., political. etc.). where there is no charge	20/-
Concert (alone). Entertainment (alone). Dance (alone), or Whist Drive (alone)	20/-
Concert and Dance. Entertainment and Dance, or Whist Drive and Dance	25/-
Bazaar or Sale of Work (alone)	20/-
Same. with Dance or Concert	25/-
Picnic Parties, in case of wet weather	25/-
Flower Show	25/-
Same. with Dance	30/-
Dances held for private profit	40/-
Christmas. New Year. and Little Dunning Dances	40/-
V.A.D. meetings. per night	5/-
Use of piano (parties are not allowed to bring their own piano)	7/6
Extra fee where dramatic piece is included in programme	5/-
Use of ante-room for committee and similar small meetings	5/-

Saturday night dances are not encouraged, but in all cases they are required to cease and parties leave the Hall by 11.30 p.m. The extra fee chargeable where dramatic pieces are given is due to the fact that the committee has a license of £2 12s 6d. to pay annually under the Theatre Act of 1843.

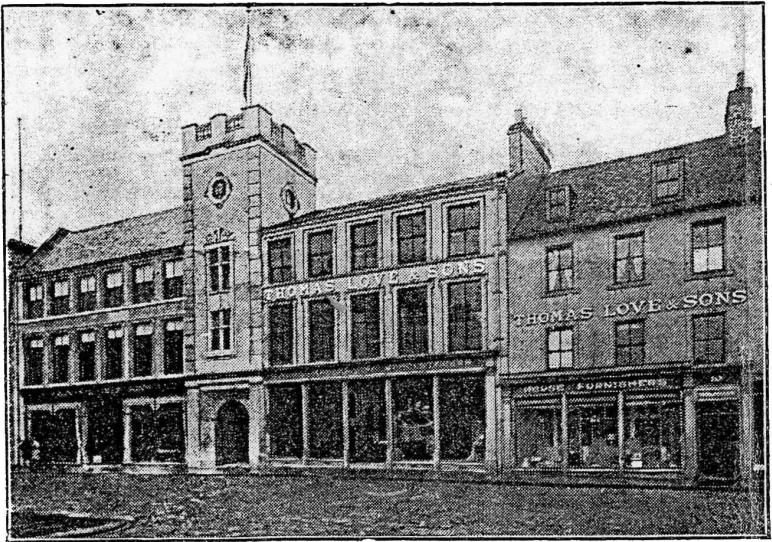

In the cast of the reconstruction of the ante-rooms, it is clear that the committee has no funds to spare for such a special effort, and it would therefore confidently appeal to all friends to make the forthcoming Bazaar a success by securing goods for the various stalls, and bringing as many buyers as possible on the day of sale.

Here is a splendid chance for securing Xmas presents to send to friends!

We give here a brief statement of the various other public Societies and Clubs in Glenfarg, with list of Committees up to date. They appear in alphabetical order. Thanks arc due to the various secretaries for much of the information given-

BOWLING CLUB.

This club originated on 17th May, 1895, when a public meeting was held in the Institute to consider the matter. The chair was taken by Mr. Duncan Macgregor, J.P., late proprietor of Arngask. A bowling green had already been constructed by the "Village Committee," a body which existed under the convenership of Mr. William Deas for the improvement of Glenfarg, and the public meeting agreed to form itself into a club and take over the green. Rules and a constitution were submitted by Rev. J. W. Jack, and approved of, and the first committee was appointed as follows: Mr. D. Macgregor, president; Mr. John Wilson, vice-president; Mr. Alex. Anderson, hon. secretary and treasurer; Mr. P. MacBean, ranger; with Messrs. Peter Anderson, Jun., Alex. Dalrymple, Alex. Deas, Jun., William Deas, Thomas Drummond, Jun., Alex. Hair, and A. J. Morris. The membership has increased within the last few years, and now numbers about 50. In 1927 the club joined the Perthshire Bowling Association, and in 1929 the Scottish Bowling Association. This year (1929) the club's representative, Mr. John McGlashan, won the Perthshire Single Handed Championship, and the club was also "runner-up" in the Perthshire Club Championship. . Committee:- Messrs. J. Morison, of Scarhead, James A. Wallace, J.P., of Duncricvie, and William G. Piper, of Letham. hon. presidents; Mr. W. S. Robertson, president; Mr. William Taylor, vice-president; Mr. Robert Bell, hon. secretary and treasurer; Mr. A. Scotland, ranger; with Messrs. CURLING CLUB.

This club was instituted in 1873 under the patronage of Major-General Kirkland of Fordel and other local proprietors. It consisted of 24 members, who soon became enthusiastic and highly skilled curlers. In 1878 it was admitted into the Loch Leven privilege of the Royal Caledonian. Club, and this gave it the privilege of competing in any match in the Province and in 411 national competitions. Its original name was Arngask Curling Club, but in 1907 this was changed to the Glenfarg Curling Club. A valuable silver cup was presented to the club by, the late Mr. Fergus McLelland, Glasgow. This, with the Quach and other medals, causes some excitement among the members at the annual competitions. During the season 1928-29 the silver cup belonging to the Loch Leven Province was won for the year by the club. At present the club has a membership of 44, and is under the patronage of Messrs. James A. Wallace, J.F., of Duncricvie, and William G. Piper, of Letham. Committee:- Major General Marindin, C B., D.S.O., hon. president; Mr. Charles Lumsden, president; Mr. William Murray, of Rossieochil. vice-president; Mr. D. Deas, hon. secretary and treasurer; with Mr. J. Smith Connell, Capt. Hopkinson, Mr. James Ireland, and Mr. David Stewart. Representative Members - Messrs. Charles Lumsden and William Murray.

DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE.

This committee was formed at a public meeting on 23rd April, 1925, for the purpose of aiding Glenfarg as a place of residence and summer resort. Its constitution gives it power to adopt all means necessary to improve the place, to aid house-letting, to supply suitable recreation for visitors, and otherwise to promote the proper growth and attractiveness of Glenfarg. It consists of not more than nine members, all of whom retire triennially at a public meeting called for the purpose, but are eligible for re-election. The first committee consisted of Rev. J. W. Jack, chairman, and Mr. W. W. Virtue, hon. secretary, along with Messrs. Robert Beath, Charles Henderson. Richard Hume, John Keay, Charles A. Marshall, and David L. Smart. At the first triennial public meeting, held on 27th April, 1928, a report of progress was submitted, and the committee was unanimously re-elected, except that Mr. James A. Wallace, J.P., of Duncricvie, was appointed in room of Mr. Virtue (deceased), and Mr. Charles Henderson was appointed hon. secretary and treasurer.

The first enterprize of the committee was to put down (in 1926) two excellent blaes tennis-courts, which cost about £500. It owns the courts and ground, and also all the seats on the various roads just outside the village. Lately, it has put down several new seats. It is taking the

DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION.

This Association owes its origin to the existence of a Fund collected in the district during the war for Red Cross purposes. After the Armistice, the Red Cross authorities allowed the surplus remaining to be used for local nursing. The Association has thus been in existence since 1919, and has all along continuously provided and maintained a District Nurse, whose services are much appreciated. In addition to building a house for the nurse and meeting all the annual charges of a nurse's maintenance, it has succeeded in raising a reserve fund, thus affording greater security. At the same time, it is wholly dependent on voluntary support and on certain grants which it may earn from the Health Authorities. Applications for the services of the nurse may be made to any member of the committee or directly to the nurse. Committee:- Mrs.

Hunter, convener; Mrs. McKarsie, vice-convener; Mrs. Oastler, Ingleston, hon. secretary and treasurer; with Mrs. Campbell (Arngask), Mrs. Connell, Mrs. R. Hume, Mrs. McArthur, Miss Morison, and Miss Jessie Seaton.

GIRL GUIDES AND BOY SCOUTS.

The aim of the Girl Guides organization is to develop good citizenship among girls by forming their character and training them in habits of usefulness, obedience, and self-reliance. This is done by games and activities which really appeal to the girl. Any girl between 11 and 16 can become a Girl Guide. Over 16 she has the chance of becoming a Ranger, over 18 a Lieutenant, and over 21 a Captain. The Glenfarg movement was commenced in January, 1925, by Miss Marindin, Fordel. The present Captain is Miss E. Marindin, and the Company, though small, is very keen. There is also a District Guide Committee of about a dozen ladies. Mrs. Douglas (Miss Pullar), Bridge of Earn, is the District Commissioner.

The Boy Scouts' Company in Glenfarg was formed about the same time. The Scout movement is generally supposed to be militaristic, but it is rather a civic one, intended to train boys in civic life and duties, and in the development of good character. The present Glenfarg Scoutmaster is Mr. Raymond McIntosh, Berryhill.

GOLF CLUB.

The club originated in 1903, when eight villagers interested in golf, formed themselves into a committee, with Rev. J. W. Jack as convener. At a public meeting held on 18th December of that year, the committee was given authority to secure ground. At a second public meeting on 14th March next year, it was unanimously agreed to proceed to the formation of a club, as, ground had been obtained on Easterton estate. The following were elected office-bearers:- Mr. William Deas, president; Mr. Charles Mackarsie, vice-president; and Rev. J.W. Jack, captain and hon. secretary. The money required for the making of the course was borrowed from the bank and members of committee, and was repaid with 5 per cent. interest after a few years. The course, which is a nine-hole one, and covers about 70 acres of ground overlooking Glenfarg village, was laid out by Willie Auchterlonie of St. Andrews, and was opened on 4th June, 1904, in presence of a large gathering by Sir (then Mr.) R. R. Simpson, W.S., of Edinburgh. It has the great advantage of being on the health-giving Ochils, and is regarded as an excellent inland course, with specially good greens, most of them of an undulating nature.

The Roman eagle once did soar

Committee of Management:- Captain, Rev. James Campbell, M.A.; vice-captain, Mr. D. S. Landsborough; hon. secretary and treasurer, Rev. J. W. Jack, M.A.; with Messrs. Alistair S. Forbes, A. Hickson, and Richard Hume. There is also a Greens Committee, with Mr. A. Hickson, convener; and a Ladies' Tea Committee, consisting of Mrs. Mackarsie, convener, along with the wives of the members of the Management Committee. Greenkeeper, Mr. John Keay.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

This society was started in 1871, under the patronage of the late Major-General Kirkland, of Fordel, and others. The principal organizers were Messrs. John Skinner, Summerfield, and Alexander Dalrymple, Glenfarg. After a few years it lapsed, but was resuscitated in 1898. It fell into abeyance again for a time, and was revived in 1920 under Mr. H. H. Bonar, O.B.E., president, and Mr. Alexander Deas, vice-president. It holds an excellent flower-show every August in the village, when numerous prizes are given. Committee:- Mr. James A. Wallace, J.P., president; Mr. David L. Smart, vice-president; Mr. John Keay, hon. secretary; Mr. George Paton, hon. treasurer; with Messrs. Alexander Deas (chairman), Robert Buist, James Ireland, Thomas Miller, James Patrick, James M. Robertson, Jun., George Short, George Smith, and Alexander Thomson.

LIBRARY.

The Library (in the institute) is now under the auspices of the Social Club and the Perthshire Education Authority. The latter body, in connection with its Rural Library Scheme, sends periodically consignments of new books. The Library is free to all residents in Arngask Parish. The librarian, Mr. John Keay, is in attendance every Monday from 7 to 8 p.m.

SKATING CLUB.

This club was formed' about twenty years ago, when the "Village Committee," under the convenership of Mr. William Deas. banked up and made the present pond with funds collected publicly. A few years later, during some winters of mild weather, the club Lapsed, but within recent years has been re-established. It supplies an excellent winter pastime to the young people. President, Mr. Charles Lumsden; Hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. James M. Robertson, Jun.

SOCIAL CLUB.

This club originated in 1920 as an outcome of the war. It was first a "Red Triangle" Club, under the Y.M.C.A., but in 1922 became the "Social" Club. It has the use of the Institute on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, from 6 to 11 p.m. Billiards, cards, draughts, and other games are played, and social meetings are held, occasionally in conjunction with the Women's Rural. Committer:- Rev. James Campbell, M.A., president; Mr. Andrew Hain, vice-president; Mr. William Brunton, hon. secretary and treasurer; with Messrs. Robert Bell, John R. Keay, D. P. Nicoll, James M. Robertson, Jun., Charles Robertson, Alexander Smith, and John Shorthouse.

TENNIS CLUB.

The Tennis Club was formed on 29th March, 1926, when the Development Committee, which had provided the courts (at a cost of about £500), drew up the constitution and rules. These provide for the Chairman and Secretary of the Development Committee being trustees of the whole property, and for the business of the Club being carried on by a committee of not more than eight, of which four shall be chosen by the Development Committee from its own members. The courts, two in number, are among the finest in Perthshire. The Club has been a marked success. Its membership has steadily increased, and now numbers over fifty, and its income meets its expenditure. The subscriptions are the same as those of the Golf Club, viz., £1 annually for gentlemen and 10/6 for ladies, and there are also daily, weekly, or monthly tickets. Committee:- Rev. J. W. Jack, M.A., president;

Mr. Charles A. Marshall, hon. secretary and treasurer, with Messrs. Richard Hume and Charles Henderson (these four from the Development Committee), and the following four from the Club, viz.,: Mrs. Fowlis, Miss ,Graham, Miss Helen Myles, and Miss Alice Sanderson. Court-keeper, Mr. John Black.

V.A.D. (VOLUNTARY AID DETACHMENT).

This organization in our village is a branch of the Perthshire V.A.D., which is administered by the Territorial Army Association of the county. It was originally formed as a Red Cross Association at a public meeting in the Institute on 12th January, 1911, when Red Cross addresses were given by Mr. Norman J. Nasmyth, J.P., Rev. J. W. Jack, M.A., Miss Simpson, and others. The result was the enrolment by Colonel Sloan, County Director, of 17 men. First Aid lectures were given by Dr. Gibson, Milnathort. Women's and men's joint classes followed, and a women's section was then formed. Under the Glenfarg Detachment, the members, both men and women, have the benefit of ambulance lectures, home-nursing lectures, and various practices. Miss Simpson, Blairstrine, and Miss Eunice Marindin act as hon. secretaries. Committee:- Rev. James Campbell, M.A., Mr. Alexander Deas, Mr. Charles Henderson, Mrs. Marindin, and Mr. and Mrs J. A. Wallace.

W.R.I. (WOMEN'S RURAL INSTUTE).

This organization was formed in the village in May, 1918, under the presidency of Mrs. W. C. Hunter, of Arngask. Its aims are those of other Institutes, viz., to develop initiative and latent talent; to bring experts to lecture and demonstrate; and to promote social intercourse and recreation among women of all classes. It has now a membership of 75. Demonstrations are numerous and competition is keen. The social side has been largely developed. In this connection a successful "Burns Night" is held annually in combination with the Social Club. Halloween customs have also been revived, and every Xmas time the children of the parish are given a Xmas tree, with Santa Claus in attendance. A Carnival Fancy Dress Dance was instituted four years ago, and has been held annually since with great success. Dramatic classes have been taken up this season for members who are willing to travel to Perth for tuition. Pottery Painting,

Basketry, Raffia, and other enterprises are also engaged in. The organization altogether has proved itself of much service to the community. Committee:—Mrs. Marindin, hon. president; Miss Graham, president; Mrs Campbell (Arngask), vice-president; Mrs. Richard Hume, hon. secretary; Mrs. C. UPHOLSTERY

EVEREST- Ever Best

in Chair Comfort !

THE illustration shows you exactly how the Everest Chair is made. Frame of toughest birchwood, as strong as a racing yacht; deep, supple coppered steel springs, anchored immovably and caged in steel netting so that they can never pop up through the upholstery; sag-proof steel slats at the base instead of webbing; stuffing of new black curled hair—the only stuffing that will never form into clots or become displaced.
